DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Murch et al (5,849,678) in view of Lopes (5,942,478).

Murch et al disclose a cleaning and sanitizing method composition and/or articles for produce comprising nonionic surfactants; fatty acid and/or salts; phosphoric acids; polyethylene glycol in amount from 0.1 to 10% by weight; surfactants such as dodecylbenzene sulfonate or 2-ethyhexyl sulfate in an amount up to 0.2% by weight; and sequestrant/builder "GRAS" such as citric acid or sodium citrate (col. 7-8).

Murch et al disclose all of the instantly required except additional acidifying/sequestering agents such as lactic acid and pyrophosphate.

Lopes disclose a microbial and sanitizing composition comprising sequestering agents such as citrates, lactates, and pyrophosphate (col. 5, lines 20-31).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include additional sequestering/acidifying agents such as lactic acid or pyrophosphate of Lopes to the compositions of Murch et al because Lopes teaches that said sequesterants are well known in the cleansing and sanitizing art for the purpose of reducing the cloudiness (col. 5, lines 23-25) and said sequesterants are equivalent to the many sequesterants used in Murch et al. Furthermore, , absent a showing to the contrary, one of ordinary skill would expect known equivalents to function in a similar manner. Accordingly, the claims are prima facie obvious for reasons disclosed herein.

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 1-21 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-14 of U. S. Patent No. 6,617,290 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: composition for cleansing fruits and vegetables comprising acidifying agents, anionic surfactants, and sequestrants.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.
